Ann Arbor City Club • 1830 Washtenaw Avenue

Women today are inundated with conflicting messages from the mass media: they must either be strong leaders in complete command or sex kittens obsessed with finding a pleasing a man. In Enlightened Sexism, Ms. Douglas, one of America's most entertaining and insightful cultural critics, takes readers on a spirited journey through the television programs, popular songs, movies, and news coverage of recent years, telling a story that is nothing less than the cultural biography of a new generation of American women. For women (and men who have mothers, wives, daughters, and sisters), she will lead us in an interesting discussion of gender issues today.
